

ABOUT US

The Child Development-Community Policing Program is a national model of collaboration between law enforcement, juvenile justice, and mental health professionals on behalf of children and families exposed to violence in their communities. CD-CP of Guilford is a collaborative effort between the Guilford Police Department and Guilford Youth & Family Services.

Goal: To provide opportunities to better understand the relationship between a child's exposure to violence and traumatic stress symptoms as well as to develop prompt and effective ways to assist children and families exposed to violence.
